53. Your department has hired a new secretary who is shy and rather lacking self-confidence. You know that the head of the department, who she will be working for, behaves rather formally although he is actually a very sociable person. You want her to know this, and so say:

A) He's so unpredictable; I don't think you'll be able to put up with him.

B) If I were you, I'd always be on my guard against him.

C) Don't be put off by his stiff manner; he's really a very warm person.

D) I don't think you're the sort of person who'll be happy to work with him.

E) You are lucky to have got this job; I'm sure you'll do your best in it.

Durum sorularında sıfatlar ve zarflar cevaba ulaşmamız açısında çok önemlidir. Sıfat ve özellikle zarflar ile verilen durumda söyleme şeklimiz kısıtlanır veya söyle tarzımız belirtilir. Bu soruda anahtar zarfımız "formally" sıfatımız ise "sociable" dır. Biz karşımızdaki kişiye "head of department" ın (bölüm başkanı) bu karakterlerde birisini olduğunu söylemek istiyoruz. Bunu "c" seçeneği en iyi şekilde ifade eder. Ayrıca, zarfları "ly" takısı vermeden kullanabileceğimiz diğer yol "in a manner, in a way" şeklinde yapılardır.

FORMALLY=STIFF MANNER
SOCIABLE PERSON=WARM PERSON

Bu soruda "to discourage" "cesaretini kırmak, vazgeçirmek" anlamında bizi "I don't regard this as a wise choice" ifadesine götürür. "bunu akıllıca bir çözüm olarak görmüyorum" ifadesi karşımızdaki kişiyi yaptığı işten vazgeçirmek için söylenmiştir. Yine "company-şirket" kelimesi vazgeçirme işleminin bize verilen durumla ilgili olduğunu gösterir. CEVAP "D" SEÇENEĞİDİR

A) Why not? Every now and again everyone benefits from a change.

B) Do you think he'd listen to you?

C) It's high time you started to think of a change. The present job doesn't offer you anything in the way of a challenge.

D) I'm not sure. Don't get a reputation for changing your job every year or so. Employers want employees who stay.

You notice that your colleague focuses completely on the benefits of nuclear power, without referring to a major problem, which is the safe disposal of nuclear waste. So you wish to draw attention to this problem and say:

A) You seem to be approaching the subject only from one angle and ignore the serious question of how to dispose of nuclear waste safely.

B) I fully share your views about the uses of nuclear power, and I think we should also look at the financial problems.

C) Certainly, nuclear power is cheap, clean and environmentally harmless. However, there are a number of problems about it and we have to consider them in detail.

D) I completely agree with you that the most serious question concerning nuclear power is how to get rid of nuclear waste.

A) So, to wrap up, the Industrial Revolution at the end of the 18th century and thereafter altered not only the foundations of the economy but also the very assumptions with which people approached economics.

B) Moreover, one can suggest that Britain in the 18th and 19th centuries had ample supplies of coal and a well-developed network of canals, all of which proved important for industrialization.

C) In fact, by the end of the 18th century and the early 19th century, London had become the leading centre for international trade and a headquarters for the transfer of raw materials, capital, and manufactured products throughout the world.

D) Actually, the Industrial Revolution began with dramatic technological leaps in a few industries towards the end of the 18th century and the early 19th century, the first of which was cotton textiles.

E) Undoubtedly, at the end of the 18th century and during the early decades of the 19th century, expanding networks of trade and finance in Britain created new markets for goods and new sources of raw materials.

55. A young friend has recently started to take piano lessons and is actually making considerable progress. However, she feels depressed because she is not improving as fast as she would like to. As you very well know, her problem is a lack of confidence in herself, so you decide to encourage her and make her keep on with the lessons. You say:

A) Have you talked it over with the teacher? What does he advise?

B) It's up to you. If you want to give up the lessons then you had better do so.

C) The trouble with you is that you give up far too easily! For once, put up a fight!

D) If one is going to play the piano one needs to start at an early age!

E) If you aren't enjoying the lessons, then you'd better give them up.

CEVAP "C" SEÇENEĞİDİR

52. Friends are house-hunting and seem set on a certain area near the centre of the town. You don't think this is a very good area to choose, as it's noisy and crowded there and prices are higher than in other parts of the town. You offer your advice and say:

A) ~~I can't understand~~ why you want to move house. Your present house is very comfortable, isn't it?

B) Have you looked at houses in the suburbs where houses are cheaper and there's less noise?

C) ~~This is not~~ a good time for buying a house; wait for the spring.

D) Obviously the nearer you are to ~~the centre~~ of town the easier everything is.

E) ~~We've lived~~ in the same house for 20 years and are not thinking of a move.

Bir öğüt vermemiz gerek. A, C, E seçenekleri DURUM belirtiyor elenir. D seçeneği dikkatsiz gözler için bir tuzak. Yapması gerektiğinin tam tersini "the more-the er" kalıbıyla belirtiyor.

B seçeneğindeki "Have you…" ifadesi advice için mükemmel bir karşılık. Ayrıca "cheaper and less noisy" olması CONTEXT ile de çok iyi örtüşür.
