In a recent survey, it was found that 25 per cent of the women interviewed reported drying and burning of the skin after using certain soaps, 10 per cent had eye and nasal irritations after using certain perfumes, and 8 per cent had cracked lips after using certain lipsticks. The most common symptoms of allergic dermatitis are extremely dry skin, scaling, and redness with swelling and itching. The products most likely to cause this condition are lipstick, nail polish, soap, hair preparations, deodorants, and perfumes. Various drugs are being developed for the relief of allergy sufferers. During the First World War, India sent 985,000 men to the battlefields, at Britain's pleading, to assist her. In return, Britain promised that she would give India self-government. When the war was over, India demanded that Britain should fulfil her promise, but the British thought that the time for Indian independence hadn't yet come. Gandhi, the leader of the independence movement, was deeply disappointed. If Britain was not prepared to keep her word, he saw no reason why he should stay loyal to her. This small, weak man with a thin face and dark eyes, wrapped in white home-spun cloth, barefoot, sleeping on the floor, always speaking in simple language that everybody could understand, became the leader of 300 million Indians in their fight against British rule.
