(VERİLEN DURUM)

1.- 75. sorularda verilen durumda söylenmiş olabilecek sözü bulunuz.

1. A friend of yours calls and wants you to help him rearrange some of the furniture in his flat. You want to stay at home and watch your favourite programme on TV. You make up an excuse and say: ----

- A) If you promise to lend your notes from today's lecture, why not?
- B) If only I had finished my lab report, I'd help you with pleasure.
- C) I hope we can finish it by the weekend.
- D) Do you also plan to repaint the walls?
- E) I am free this weekend. It'll be a pleasure for me to help you.

2. You are a police officer and you have just arrested someone for stealing money from the supermarket. On the way to the police station she tells you that she stole the money because she lost her job a short time ago. You feel sorry for her but there is nothing you can do and you say: ----

- A) If you think you can change his mind, you are wrong.
- B) Stop telling me your story. I don't believe it.
- C) It is always the same old story. You should have considered the results.
- D) People like you should be kept in prison for a long time.
- E) Even if I understand your situation, it is my duty to arrest you.

3. Tomorrow is the first anniversary of your relationship and you have ordered a bunch of yellow roses. However, while reading a magazine, you learn that giving yellow roses to a partner means you want to break up. To avoid this misunderstanding, you immediately call the florist's to tell them to change your order. So you say: ----

- A) We are sorry but it is too late to make a change.
- B) I should have known your prices were too high.
- C) You have sent my flowers to the wrong address.
- D) Please forgive me, dear. I don't know much about romance.
- E) I'd like to send red roses instead of yellow ones, please.

4. You are the chairman of a meeting. While you are explaining a new project, you see that one of the staff members is sending text messages. He thinks that you don't notice and keeps sending messages during the whole meeting. You are very angry, and when the meeting is over, you warn him about what will happen if he does this again and you say: ----

- A) I hope you will keep your cellular phone off during the meeting.
- B) You should keep your mobile phone on all the time so that your boss can contact you any time.
- C) It will have bad consequences for you if you do this again.
- D) Where do you usually keep your cellular phone when it is not in use?
- E) If I had known that you sent those messages, I wouldn't have been so angry.

5. You and two of your colleagues have decided to have lunch at a cafe near your office. When you get into the cafe, you see that it is very crowded. Fortunately, you find a table with two chairs. While you are looking around, you see a free seat at one of the tables, so you go and ask the man sitting there if he minds your taking the chair. He allows you to take it and says: ----

- A) Yes, we can. It seems that no one is sitting there.
- B) Not at all. You had better take it before someone else does.
- C) Actually, my girlfriend will be here in five minutes.
- D) I don't think this seat is free, which means you can't take it.
- E) I wonder if I could take this seat.

6. You can't get your computer started and there are many important files of which you haven't made a backup yet. Right at that moment, one of your friends who is familiar with computers calls you and you ask him for help: ----

- A) Why don't you call the service as they are the ones who must provide you with assistance?
- B) Please drop by and give a hand, as my computer may have crashed, will you?
- C) If it hadn't been for those business files that I hadn't saved, I wouldn't have asked you to come over.
- D) I am sorry for what has happened; is there anything I can do about it?
- E) I would have asked for your help but I guess I figured out what I should do.

7. When you arrive home, you realize that you no longer have your course book, which was with you when you met with your friends at the university canteen. So, you call one of them who you think is still in the canteen and say: ----

- A) Thank you for your calling me to say that I have forgotten my book at the canteen.
- B) I am sure that I left my book under my desk. Could you please keep it for me?
- C) Is it possible for you to lend me your book for a while as mine has been lost?
- D) Why didn't you tell me that you took it with you? I have been looking for it at least for an hour.
- E) I must have forgotten my book somewhere there. Can you check it for me please?

8. You have been unable to go to work for two days and your father has taken you to your family doctor. After he examines you, the doctor says that there is nothing serious and that all you have to do is to have some rest. As you are not satisfied with his remarks, you want to see another doctor. So, you say to your father: ----

- A) How long have you had this pain? It must be really disturbing.
- B) Thank you very much doctor. I hope I will get over it by taking these pills.
- C) Can we go to another physician, as I am not quite convinced of his diagnosis?
- D) I trust him because we have known him for more than ten years.
- E) Why do you want to go somewhere else? Don't you trust him?

9. You had a hard day at school as you had lots of exams so you are looking forward to a quiet evening at home. However, when you walk in, you see that your flatmates are having a party. Not wishing to offend your friends, you excuse yourself by saying: ----

- A) I think I can change my plans about a quiet evening at home. Let's go!
- B) I don't think I can handle this situation, so please let me know when your friends leave.
- C) Can two of you go somewhere else? I want to stay alone after a hard day.
- D) I'm exhausted so I think it's better for me to go to my room and have a little rest.
- E) You all know that I cannot stand such parties after a tiring day.

10. With great enthusiasm, you go and tell your brother that you have decided to buy a guitar and learn how to play it. To your disappointment, he begins to speak sarcastically of how you always come up with an idea but never accomplish what you have started. You reply: ----

- A) Not once have you tried to encourage me to do what I want.
- B) You'll need someone to teach you since you can't do it by yourself.
- C) You seem very ambitious this time; I think you are pretty serious about it.
- D) If you think it's that easy, why don't you let me do it?
- E) I guess you're right; I'd better sell this guitar back to the shop I bought it from.

11. You have been staying at a hotel for three days and you have four more days to spend there. You are in the restaurant for dinner enjoying a nice meal. The restaurant manager approaches you and asks what you think of the hotel food. You quite like the food and the service, yet you do not want to spoil them, so you add some criticism to your generally positive comment: ----

- A) The overall quality is satisfactory but you could add some more variety to the menu.
- B) I must admit that the food you serve is by far the best I have ever eaten in my entire life.
- C) Criticizing people for things they have done voluntarily is something I avoid doing.
- D) Why don't you go to the next table and ask the guests there whether they agree with me?
- E) I've been staying here in this hotel for nearly a week and I haven't noticed anything wrong.

12. You are having a stroll along a busy shopping street looking around in a leisurely way. A strange-looking man stops you and asks you whether you can do him a favour. Getting a request for a favour from a stranger somewhat irritates you and so you quickly decide that the best thing you can do is to get rid of him. In a rather rude way, you say: ----

- A) I'm sorry to say this but I'm afraid I would rather leave.
- B) Don't be silly. She must learn to sort out her problems on her own.
- C) Let me guess. You're thirsty and you want to have a cold drink.
- D) Cut it out. I don't want to hear anything negative about your new teacher.
- E) I can't do anything for you. Get out of my face.

13. Your friend asks you whether you can give her a lift to the airport, which is forty kilometres from your home. What is worse, her flight is at six o'clock in the morning. She has done you a lot of favours before and she looks quite certain that you will agree to do that. You let her down by saying: ----

- A) You had better ask your brother to delay the wedding ceremony.
- B) Although he has done me several favours, I'm not sure whether he really likes me.
- C) I'm sorry but I can't do that. The flight is far too early.
- D) The only problem with the new airline is the prices that they charge.
- E) We need to be more understanding to handicapped passengers.

14. Your mother sees you studying whenever she opens the door to your room. She feels sorry for you as she thinks your very valuable young days are being wasted. She says you mustn't work so hard or else you will lose your mental health. You appreciate her concern but you think it's not the right time to worry about your health since the university entrance exam is only two months ahead, so you say: ----

- A) Take a short holiday. When you come back, you will be feeling much better.
- B) Are you sure you don't want me to do something that will make you feel better?
- C) That's very nice of you to worry about me but I can't stop now.
- D) Two months later, you will have a better chance of being promoted.
- E) The harder I study, the more worried I become about the result of the exam.

15. You see a friend of yours coming out of the cinema. You give her a big hug and ask how she's been doing. She says she's fine but the tone of her voice gives her away. It's obvious that she's got a serious problem. You want to know what the matter is, but you know that a direct question would make you sound nosy, so you say: ----

- A) It's so nice to see such a film after so many years.
- B) Shame on you. A good friend never gives away her friend's secrets.
- C) Have you got time for a coffee? We probably have a lot to talk about.
- D) I don't want you to think that I'm nosy but how much did you pay for the holiday?
- E) I want you to remember what I've just said all through your life.

16. You see two little boys looking around helplessly. Thinking that they might have got lost, you offer to help. One of them holds out a piece of paper and asks whether you can give directions to the address on the paper. Not knowing the district very well, you say you can't help. Then you warn them to be careful by saying: ----

- A) You should have looked both ways before you passed this busy road.
- B) It's not safe for little kids like you to walk around without a parent's company.
- C) Have you got lost? Do you want me to give you a ride home?
- D) Now listen to me carefully. If you get lost one more time, I won't let you go out.
- E) Write the address on a piece of paper. I cannot say I've got a very good memory.

1. Sue:
- Though I have finished all the research, I don't think I will be able to present my findings at the annual conference in July.
Alan:
- But that's one month away. You've still got lots of time.
Sue:
- ----
Alan:
- Not if I help you with it.
- A) But it will probably take me more than that to organize my notes.
B) I haven't finished the research yet and I am not ready for the conference.
C) I hope I'll be ready to return to work soon.
D) You know it is very important for my career.
E) I've been so busy lately that I didn't have time to see you.
2. Vince:
- ----
Kelly:
- I didn't. I'm fed up with your blaming me all the time.
Vince:
- Come on, Kelly. You can't fool me. I know you are using it without asking me.
Kelly:
- I'm not going to waste my time trying to convince you.
- A) Did you inform the technical service about the power failure?
B) Didn't I tell you millions of times to ask for my permission?
C) How did you manage to recover the bugged files on your computer?
D) Why did you use my laptop without permission?
E) Did you know the computer prices fell by forty percent last year?

3. Sally:
- ----
Jack:
- Why? I've started to learn from my mistakes.
Sally:
- That's a big change. I've never heard you say things like this before.
Jack:
- Well, people change as they get older, and I'm not young anymore.
- A) They will probably not tell us about the problems in their lives.
B) The two students admitted to cheating throughout the semester.
C) She makes such stupid mistakes that I sometimes doubt she's got a brain.
D) Although she's over forty, my mother still feels like a teenager.
E) I don't believe that you are a more responsible person than before.
4. Zed:
- ----
Nora:
- Don't be prejudiced. Maybe they don't use price tags because they want to imply that the prices are negotiable.
Zed:
- Come on. Don't be naïve. They do this simply because they have got very high prices.
Nora:
- Okay, Zed. You're right. This is not the only store in the world. Let's walk ahead and find a better place.
- A) The prices in the catalogue are different from those on the tags. I don't trust these people.
B) They've opened a lovely clothes shop just round the corner. Let's pop in and do some shopping.
C) Have you any idea how much that fabulous dress in the shop window is? I think I'm going to buy it.
D) Where I lived before I moved to this neighbourhood, things were much cheaper than those here.
E) I don't like this store. There are no price tags attached to the items in the window.

5. Andrew:
 - Do you think the problem of global warming will soon be solved?
 Pam:
 - ----
 Andrew:
 - Well, actually I'm not. I've got a homework assignment on the future of global warming, and I'm trying to collect data by asking people's opinions.
 Pam:
 - I guess I'm not a good source of information on this issue.
- A) No, I don't. And I'm not willing to write another essay on air pollution.
 B) Are you aware of the fact that the world will run out of oil reserves in fifty years?
 C) I have no idea. I didn't know you were interested in environmental issues.
 D) If you haven't got a lot of homework for tomorrow, we can go out tonight.
 E) As far as I know, you were not in the environment club when it was started.
6. Larry:
 - There's hardly any sugar left so I'll go to the supermarket and buy some.
 Kim:
 - ----
 Larry:
 - Oh, God. I totally forgot that. But it's quite normal for a person who hasn't had a holiday for the last three years, isn't it?
 Kim:
 - You don't remember that, not because you had your last holiday a long time ago, but because you're an absent-minded person.
- A) You don't need to. We're going on holiday soon. Remember?
 B) Can you also buy some flour and eggs? I want to make a cake.
 C) Do you mind if I join you? I'm bored to death.
 D) Don't worry. I'll take care of it. You know I've got to do some shopping.
 E) You can't do that now because you've got more important things to do.

7. David:
 - Can you recommend me a book on the theory of multiple intelligence?
 Walter:
 - ----
 David:
 - So do you mean that I should go to the library and look for one instead of asking you?
 Walter:
 - Don't be so touchy. You know I always try to do my best whenever you need my help.
- A) How am I supposed to know anything about a subject like multiple intelligence?
 B) He went to the library yesterday and looked for a book on quantum physics.
 C) I would love to be there but you know I'm not going to be around for a few weeks.
 D) There are lots of books on this subject, so you won't have difficulty finding one.
 E) Thanks to the Internet, we do not need to buy hard copy books anymore.
8. Mum:
 - ----
 Boy:
 - You're not going to complain all day, are you?
 Mum:
 - You see? This is another example of lack of respect to elders.
 Boy:
 - I understand. You're not in the right mood to talk about anything.
- A) I'm going to quit this job. I work too hard but get too little money.
 B) I can't believe it. This jacket was two hundred dollars last week and now it's fifty.
 C) If I were you, I would learn to keep quiet so that other people would have a chance to talk.
 D) When I was young, we had respect for our elders. Now look at you.
 E) Enough is enough. I can't stand hearing your complaints about me.

9. Greg:

- ----

Pete:

- I'm not surprised. It was certain that the tension between the two teams would eventually cause a lot of trouble.

Greg:

- It's a pity that a sport event leads to such violence.

Pete:

- Sure it is. And that's why I never go to the stadium. I prefer to watch the matches on television.

- A) Have you any idea why football is so popular all around the world?
- B) Was the new player able to show his so-called unique skills in yesterday's match?
- C) Did you hear that nearly one hundred football fans were arrested yesterday?
- D) I'm afraid I won't be able to go to the match tomorrow. Do you want my ticket?
- E) There are so many sports programs on TV, but almost all of them focus on football.

10. Sally:

- You promised to call me back last night but you didn't. Have you got an explanation?

Patrick:

- ----

Sally:

- You're talking like an old man, Patrick. You're only 25.

Patrick:

- Age is not the only factor that affects memory. You know there are other things like exercise, nutrition, and stress.

- A) I know but promise to forgive me when I explain why.
- B) I had a terrible headache. I couldn't even stand upright.
- C) The tablets that the doctor prescribed were no good.
- D) People who smoke a lot have a weaker memory than those who don't.
- E) My memory is not as good as it used to be.

11. Jack:

- ----

Walter:

- Did you wake him up and say he was disturbing you?

Jack:

- I did but he just didn't care and went back to sleep. Then I poured some tea on his trousers and he was wide awake.

Walter:

- I can't believe you did that. You're crazy.

- A) My father arrived home very late and his noise woke all the family up.
- B) Our upstairs neighbour had a noisy birthday party last night.
- C) The man sitting next to me on the bus was snoring loudly.
- D) Do you mind if I lie down on the couch and sleep for a while?
- E) We had a terrible night last night. The baby kept crying until the morning.

12. Gary:

- Look at the dog. It is running in circles and barking furiously.

Betsy:

- It must have seen a stranger around the gate.

Gary:

- ----

Betsy:

- No. It's not a police dog, Gary. You shouldn't take its barks so seriously.

- A) Don't you think we should check if there is something wrong?
- B) Do you mean your dog is almost as clever as a police dog?
- C) Would an intruder alarm be a better option than our poor dog?
- D) They probably did. Why don't you call the police instead of complaining?
- E) You didn't feed it, did you? I knew I shouldn't trust you.

13. Philip:

- The temperature is higher than usual for this time of the year.

Dora:

- ----

Philip:

- Don't be so harsh to me, Dora. We met only an hour ago and we don't know much about each other. I'm just trying to break the ice.

Dora:

- I don't want to talk about the weather, though. Why don't we talk about our hobbies and interests?

- A) We should have something more interesting than the weather to talk about.
- B) Yes, it is. Let's go home, take our swimming stuff and go to the seaside.
- C) I always listen to the weather forecast before I leave home, although they are not always accurate.
- D) We had better stay in until the sun starts to go down. I don't want to get sunburnt again.
- E) I don't think so. I've lived here for a long time and I've seen much hotter days.

14. James:

- I need you to help with the new specialist we are going to hire.

Michael:

- ----

James:

- I have interviewed more than twenty candidates but none of them is good enough.

Michael:

- Why don't you put an ad in the newspaper instead of referring to previously collected CVs?

- A) I don't think he will be able to spare any time for interviews.
- B) We certainly need a new specialist but we cannot afford one at the moment.
- C) Is it? I'll be glad if I can be of help in any way.
- D) I thought you talked to some candidates and chose one.
- E) We do not need a new specialist. What we need is better software.

15. Bill:

- I wish I were as lucky as you are and had a job that involves a lot of travelling.

Susan:

- ----

Bill:

- Really? What is it that you don't like about visiting all the cities in the country?

Susan:

- I do not travel to those cities as a tourist. I have meetings with the customers all the time and it's no fun.

- A) I'm a born voyager and I chose a job that would make me happy.
- B) A well-paid job isn't necessarily a good job for a person like me.
- C) You can always give up your current job and join me.
- D) Travelling all the time is as enjoyable as you think.
- E) I'm not in the right mood to listen to your never-ending complaints about life.

16. Carol:

- I'm going to buy a new laptop computer.

Ashley:

- ----

Carol:

- Not any more. I gave up smoking and drinking alcohol. I will buy anything I want with the money I will save.

Ashley:

- Great. You seem to have made the wisest decision of your life.

- A) Has he won the lottery? He didn't have money to buy lunch yesterday.
- B) Are you kidding? I thought you were on a tight budget.
- C) And you want me to go to the techno shop with you now. Is that right?
- D) You don't need to buy brand-new ones. You can buy second hand ones.
- E) I'll be happy to give you some tips about each one of them.
