1. Andy : My sister has to have an operation.

Clare :

Andy : I hope not.

- A) Really? Has she? I'm so sorry.
- B) Oh, does she? When?
- C) Oh, doesn't she? Do you think it is serious?
- D) Oh, does she? Is it serious?
- E) Oh, hasn't she? Are you worried about her?

2. Son : Why has this jumper shrunk so much?

Mother :

Son : OK , but please be more careful next time.

- A) Well, I warned you to follow the washing instructions carefully
- B) It hasn't! That jumper belongs to your little brother
- C) Actually, I think it's that you're getting fatter
- D) I really don't know. Let me have a look at it
- E) I'm really sorry. I didn't realise it had to be washed by hand

3. Mike : Hello. Nice to see you here.

Greg : Hello. You, too.

Mike : How is your brother ?

Greg : My brother? Oh, he is fine.

Mike :

Greg : That was probably his new girlfriend.

- A) Does he have a girlfriend at the moment?
- B) Why didn't he come to the party with you?
- C) Who was the girl I saw him with last night?
- D) I'd like to meet his new girlfriend.
- E) How about his relations with girls?

4. Alison : Can you remember where it was that we found that wonderful restaurant?

Tom : Wasn't it near the sea-front?

Alison :

Tom : Maybe you're right.

- A) Well I would have remembered .that myself.
- B) Yes, of course! How could I forget?
- C) Yes! And it had such a lovely view.

- D) No, that was the one which was too expensive.

- E) Considering its position, they didn't have much fish on the menu.

5. Graham : Whenever I hear this song, it reminds me of our holiday in France.

Sally : I thought you hated it.

Graham :

- A) I do! But it still reminds me!
- B) Yes, of course, they played it every night.
- C) I didn't like it much either when I first heard it.
- D) Neither do you! But you bought it!
- E) If only we knew who sang it.

6. Secretary : Would you mind if I left a little early tonight?

Manager : Why?

Secretary :

Manager : In that case, not at all.

- A) Because I'm bored of typing.
- B) I want to visit my mother in hospital.
- C) You shouldn't ask personal questions.
- D) We won't be able to finish this work on time.
- E) I haven't decided yet.

7. Martin : Have you seen my glasses anywhere? I seem to have lost them.

Fiona :

Martin : So I am! How silly of me!

- A) Try looking in the mirror. You're wearing them!
- B) Yes, they're in the bathroom, on the washbasin.
- C) Oh, you haven't lost them again, have you?
- D) You really should be more careful with your belongings.
- E) No, I haven't, but I'll help you look for them.

- 8. Pamela : Hello! How's your job-hunting going? Found anything suitable yet?
- Sandra : No, not yet
- Pamela : Oh well, that sounds quite promising. Give me a ring this evening and let me know how you got on.
- A) I look through the papers every day, but there's nothing. I'm beginning to think I'll never find a Job.
- B) But I went for an interview three days ago and they've invited me back for a second interview this afternoon.
- C) I've started doing evening work in a restaurant just to get some money, but it's really boring and I hate it.
- D) Last week I went for three interviews. I thought they all went well, but they all turned me down.
- E) If I don't find something here within the next month, then I'm going to move to another town.
- 9. Lawrence : You realise that next Friday and Monday are public holidays, don't you?
- Chris : Oh yes, that means, combined with the weekend, we'll have four days off. Why don't we go somewhere?
- Lawrence : Well, I was thinking of going somewhere in the country and hiring a bicycle.
- Chris :
- Lawrence : Yes, actually I've got an advertisement from the paper here. Shall we give them a ring?
- A) Marvelous! And I wouldn't need to hire a bike because I've got a really good one.
- B) I'm not too keen on cycling, but I like the country, so I could go walking while you're out on your bike.
- C) It sounds like fun, but isn't hiring bikes terribly expensive these days?
- D) The last time I rode a bicycle; I fell off and dislocated my shoulder.
- E) What an excellent ideal Do you know anyone who arranges that sort of thing?

- 10. Estate Agent: What sort of house are you looking for, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds?
- Mr. Reynolds : We'd like a two-storey house, with three or four bedrooms and a separate garage.
- Estate Agent :
- Mrs Reynolds : Oh yes, because we've got two children and a dog.
- A) What sort of car do you have?
- B) Would you like it to have a garden as well?
- C) Houses like that are quite difficult to find these days.
- D) And how much were you thinking of paying?
- E) How far from the city-centre would you like to be?
- 11. Policeman : Can you give me a description of the man you saw running out of the bank?
- Witness: Well, he was about 25 years old; longish fair hair and he was wearing jeans and a blue — no not blue — green jacket.
- Policeman:
- Witness: Fairly.
- A) Was he carrying a gun or a knife?
- B) So you think he was about 25 years old, then?
- C) Did he have any other distinguishing features?
- D) Are you absolutely certain it was green?
- E) Would you recognise him if you saw him again?

12. Doctor: You really should start to take things easier. You're not a young man any more and your blood pressure is higher than it should be.

Patient:

Doctor: Well, I'll give you a prescription, but the medicine must be combined with rest for it to be effective.

- A) Really? How high is it?
- B) O.K. I'll go home and have a good sleep then, shall I?
- C) Can't you just give me some pills or an injection or something for that?
- D) But I feel like a young man and I think I still look pretty good.
- E) Too much salt increases blood pressure, doesn't it? So I'll cut down on that.

13. Customers : We'd like some information about holidays to Spain, please.

Travel Agent : Yes, certainly. When were you thinking of going?

Customers :

Travel Agent : Not to worry. Now which part of Spain are you interested in?

- B) We're a bit worried about, the political situation there.
- C) We usually take our holiday between June and September.
- D) We're not sure yet — it depends on our work.
- E) When would you recommend us to go?

14. Harriet : Have you ever thought about changing your job?

Valerie :

Harriet : Why didn't you tell me? How did it go?

- A) No, never. I'm really happy where I am now.
- B) Maybe sometime in the future, but not just yet.
- C) Actually I had an interview for a new job yesterday.
- D) I'm always thinking about it, but I've never done anything.
- E) Yes, I'm starting a new job for an advertising company next week.

15. Maggie: What a beautiful dress. Where did you get it?

Wendy: Well, actually, I had it specially made for me.

Maggie:

Wendy: No, not really. The designer is a friend of my mother's.

- A) Wow! That must have cost a fortune.
- B) Oh really! How can you afford to buy exclusive clothes?
- C) Never! It looks just like the one Rita was wearing on Saturday.
- D) I must say it's been made very well — just your style.
- E) I wish I could have clothes made for me sometime.

16. Bank Manager: Good afternoon, Mr. Johnson, may I help you?

Mr. Johnson: I'd like to discuss the possibility of taking out a loan.

Bank Manager:

Mr. Johnson: I think I'll need about £ 2.000. It's to put towards a car.

- A) Oh yes. Your final repayment is due next week.
- B) Certainly. First of all, how much would you like to borrow?
- C) I'm afraid that's impossible. Your account is already overdrawn.
- D) No problem. Speak to my secretary and she'll give you the form.
- E) I'm sorry, but as you're not a regular customer of the bank, it's impossible.

17. Patsy : Hello, Glasgow 41239.
Debbie : Hi Patsy. It's Debbie. How are you?
Patsy : Hi Debbie. Very well, and you?
Debbie : Fine! Listen, I can't talk for long. Can I ask you a favour?
Patsy : Yes, of course. We'd love to. When do you think you'll arrive?

- A) I couldn't borrow your black dress at the weekend, could I?
- B) My sister's going to Glasgow next week and she needs a place to stay for a few nights.
- C) Can you phone my boss and tell him that I'm ill and can't work today?
- D) Do you know anyone who does catering? I'm trying to organize an office party.
- E) Could you put me up next Wednesday night? I've got an interview on Thursday morning.

18. Jason: Take a look at this postcard. Who do you think it's from?

Meg:

Jason: And I don't recognize the writing either. So, who do we know who's in Kaş at the moment?

- A) I can't guess. Go on, tell me!
- B) It can't be from Terry because he never writes anything.
- C) Oh of course. It's from Adrian.
- D) I'm not .sure, but Des is in Kaş at the moment.
- E) I have no idea. The signature is illegible.
